A Poem to make you smile by Roger Holder, Great Bricett

I want to be rich with a yacht or two
And live in a house with a gold-plated loo
A swimming pool with infinity edge
And lots of fancy topiary hedge
A chauffeur driven Rolls a must
With lots of servants to get rid of the dust
A butler to organise my every need
An Afghan hound with a studded lead
Lots of money to throw around
When going shopping in the town
But wait a minute I've had a thought
What will happen with all I've bought?
When the tax man sees my spend
And try's to bring it to an end
With Capital Gains and VAT
They really will be after me
My riches I will have to hide
A bicycle I'll have to ride
To make it look like I am poor
When they come knocking at my door
This life I yearn is not to be
To be so rich is not for me
To have no money will be just fine
At least my poverty will be all mine

The Red Lion has rather lost his roar this month, in fact quite hoarse after a busy February with Valentines Day and March with Mothering Sunday.

But fear not, as busy as ever with delicious meals and always a warm welcome.
